

MacDonnells Law HR Managers Forum

Mark Peters and our Employment Law & Workplace Relations team invite you to attend the next MacDonnells Law HR Managers Forum.

Global Economic Crisis... opportunities in HR

Most Australian businesses are now experiencing the serious impact of the current economic crisis. Some businesses have been treating this as an opportunity to focus on their business' operation, particularly their human resources. These businesses are looking to improve their systems and procedures, conducting more workforce training and upgrading the quality of their personnel.

We have invited Craig Pocock, formerly General Manager of Skyrail and Ocean Spirit and now a business consultant, to address our group on some of the opportunities he has identified for HR Managers. Craig has successfully restructured a number of our clients in the past and his presentation on managing human resources during these difficult times is highly regarded.
